

SUPERVISING ATTORNEY – HEALTH CARE or EMPLOYEE BENEFITS CLINIC

Illinois Institute of Technology Chicago-Kent College of Law The C-K Law Group

The C-K Law Group of Chicago-Kent College of Law, Illinois Institute of Technology, is now accepting applications for a full-time in-house clinical faculty member from established attorneys who work with health care clients or who have an established employee benefits practice.

The successful candidate already has a robust client base that involves pursuing administrative claims, insurance defense, benefits compliance, and/or related litigation. As a clinical professor, primary duties include teaching enrolled student interns lawyering skills, supervising their assigned client case work, and mentoring them through the myriad associated professional issues.

The attorney's salary is negotiable and based on experience, but will be primarily determined by the amount of fees the attorney is able to generate from the clients he or she represents. The position carries University benefits including medical, group life insurance, retirement, etc.

This is an excellent opportunity for talented attorneys wishing to teach and practice in a unique in-house clinical education setting. Preference will be given to candidates who have been admitted to the Illinois Bar for a minimum of five (5) years, have a strong background in transactional business issues, and have some experience educating law students in the practice of law. Applicants should have strong academic credentials and a commitment to educating the next generation of lawyers, as well as a desire to be part of a collegial group of attorneys and faculty at the law school.
